SEDGELEY FARM.

Sedgeley Farm lies south of the village of Hinsdale, which is the principal station between Chicago and Aurora on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, being about seventeen miles from Chicago. The stallion barns are about three and a half miles from Hinsdale station and an equal distance from Willow Springs station on the Santa Fe and Alton railroads. Shipping facilities are nearly equal by the three roads, but the Postoffice address is Hinsdale, Du Page County, Illinois. From Chicago trains require from half an hour to forty minutes to reach Hinsdale. Trains are very frequent in both directions. There are long-distance telephones at the farm.

The farm consists of about 1,050 acres of rolling land. It is about 200 feet above the level of Lake Michigan. Artesian wells furnish abundant water for the stock in all the fields. The pastures are fenced with Page woven wire. The barns are well ventilated and warm.

In the spring of 1893 two French Coach fillies and one stallion, all coming one year old, were purchased at Oaklawn from the late Mr. Dunham. One of these fillies, named Palestine, grew to be the champion coach mare of the Chicago Horse Show in 1897, having taken first honors in the class of mares at Madison Square Garden the previous year. The stallion Inkermann took first prize at the World’s Columbian Exposition in 1893, and has taken numerous other premiums, being second only to his sire Indre at the Chicago Horse Show of 1897. During the following five or six years Mr. Dunham let two or three choice fillies go to Sedgeley each season. These, with their produce, now make about forty mares of producing age. About twelve of these are daughters of Indre and an equal number are daughters of Perfection. The majority of the fillies produced on the farm are grand-daughters both of Indre and Perfection. This combination of blood gives finish, action, docility, fire, size and as much speed as is consistent with the other necessary qualities in a useful harness horse. The blood of the great French sire of race horses Phaeton is an almost absolute insurance of kindred of disposition, and of courage and gameness.

Owing to the broad-minded spirit in which the late Mr. Dunham spared to Sedgeley Farm some of the choicest bred of his young fillies each year, the Sedgeley Stud now contains as high an average in quality of brood mares as can be found anywhere. Palestine, Gabrielle, Enejide, Inez (the only daughter of Phaeton in America), Ismene, Vestal, Esmeralda and others that have never been beaten in the show ring (except some of them by their own stable mates), are now in the prime of usefulness.

It has been easier to get together such a high grade collection of mares than to find the outstanding stallion or stallions suitable to mate with them. The French Government intends to see to it that the best stallions are not exported, and the leading breeders in France are so under the domination of the Government that it is very rarely that a breeder will sell his very best for export. Nevertheless some stallions of outstanding merit have been brought to this country and the Sedgeley Stud now contains three imported trotting bred stallions that are worthy a place in the highest rank of those in service in their native country.

Of Indre it is sufficient to say that he never looked better or showed to better advantage than he does to-day. He was foaled in 1886 and has the promise of many years of usefulness. I saw his sire, the great Phaeton, still doing service in the 26th year of his age. The photograph of Indre, taken this year (see page 8), shows the characteristic life and power of a great horse.

Besides Indre the Sedgeley Stud now contains the two young horses imported last year, Viseur and Vengeur. Viseur is a son of the great stallion Kepi, one of the great race winners of his time and a horse that has been successful in the stud. Viseur's dam is the great brood mare Isis, daughter of Paquerette another of the great race winners, herself a daughter of the great Modestie. It is safe to say that no coach stallion of equal breeding on both sides has been brought to America in many years. Viseur has outstanding excellence in finish, action and speed, and should be worthy to keep up the standard and even to improve upon the quality of the Sedgeley brood mares.

Vengeur is also a very highly bred horse with size and weight and finish, and showing phenomenal action both in front and behind.

Pepino is one of the best sons of Perfection. His dam was sired by Geoffroy, the predecessor of Perfection at Oaklawn. Pepino has size, conformation and action, and has been very successful as a sire.

Besides the imported stallions and Pepino there are a number of young stallions bred at Sedgeley which are good enough for service with such of the mares as are not closely related to them. There are at present three sons of PALESTINE at Sedgeley, two sons of Encide, one of Tepita, one of Quality, two of Esmeralda and others of other mares, sired by Inkermann, Regent and Pepino, that might be used extensively in service at Sedgeley were it not for the fact that they are closely related to so many of the mares. As it is these young stallions are occasionally used for service with excellent results.

Farmers and horsemen interested in the breeding of useful and ornamental harness horses are invited to visit the stud and see the show horses now on the farm. The young stallions are, of course, for sale, and the number of brood mares is now sufficient to admit of some of the mares being parted with.
THE FRENCH COACH HORSE.

The idea of systematically improving the horse in France was developed in the times of the Crusaders and under the feudal system.

When the Moors were hurled back from the Spanish part of the Frankish realm by Charlemagne’s invincible troops, in the beginning of the ninth century, hundreds of stallions from the deserts came as the spoils of war to the Frankish warriors, and later in the Crusades the descendants of these horses proved their vast superiority. Rivalry between the feudal war lords stimulated their vassals to the improvement of the horses in every fighting band, and so the good work went on until 1680, when the Royal Haras was established at Le-Pin for the purpose of improving the native breeds by the infusion of blood of the desert. The stallions first kept in this Haras have left their mark indelibly on the French breeds.

Nothing tries the horse resources of a nation so severely as war, and from the first the French cavalry has been the best mounted in the world. From this early war horse stock has been developed the French Coacher and Trotter of to-day. The use of the race course and the selection of the best only as breeders have been the stepping stones to the evolution of the present magnificent type. In founding the Government Haras the French officials had a single object in view, to wit: to produce a horse of blood and bone, of size and substance, beauty, endurance and speed, that could be used in harness or under saddle, that would carry a soldier, his arms and kit, or make good time on the road attached to the heavy diligence. He must be able to trot or gallop fast, go long distances and endure great fatigue without breaking down. As most of the work was required at the trot, trotting races under the saddle were endowed as early as the beginning of the last century, the actual speed test not alone governing the verdict, but individuality, action and general fitness to perpetuate the breed entering into the decisions of the judges. The horse that filled this bill had to be a strictly useful animal, no dress parade "dude" or undersized fast one was accepted. The government bought the stallions that were awarded the prizes, and when the stallions were placed in the Haras the breeders were asked to pay stud fees ranging from five to thirty francs (from one to six dollars). Thus was the good work begun, and though the demands of the times have changed as civilization has advanced, the basic methods have changed but little, the old principle of buying the stallions proven by actual test to be the best, at liberal prices, and standing them at nominal fees, still prevails.

From the beginning absolute soundness and freedom from all constitutional or hereditary defects have been insisted on by the government examiners. As civilization advanced the demand for a finer, equally enduring and large, though faster, horse grew also, and the demand was supplied by selection and the introduction of large, strong boned, finely finished thoroughbreds. The race course was continued in use as a means to sift the good from the bad. Wise laws were passed prohibiting the use of undersized or unworthy stallions, stricter regulations surrounded the acquisition of government money, and the grant was increased from year to year, and the very foremost talent in the nation was employed to manage the various Government Haras. This brings us down to some forty years ago, since which time the methods have not been materially changed, save in the way of the progress that would naturally be made under such circumstances by so progressive a nation as the French. A description of the methods now in vogue will, therefore, serve to call attention to the wisdom displayed by the French people in perfecting their favorite breed. Never for a moment in the evolution of the Coach breed have the French breeders lost sight of the strict utility of the horse, and while speed has been increased at the trot just as greatly proportionately as it has in this country, size, substance, beauty of conformation, endurance and style have been increased in like measure. The result is the development of the type now accepted all over the world as the best for coach and carriage uses.

Beginning with the race course as the great sifter, or, more properly, separrator—always the greatest factor in the improvement of light horses—we find that the French Government annually adds to trotting races an enormous sum of money; in addition an equally large, if not larger, sum is spent each year in the purchase of breeding stallions. The French Stud Book was established in 1833. The organization of the trotting course had been accomplished two years previous, the government keeping clearly in mind the fact that the real value of every horse must ultimately be measured very largely by his endurance. Long distance races were, therefore, established. Very few are trotted by trained horses or colts under two miles. For three-year-olds and older horses the distances are from four to five miles, and always on a sod track, under the saddle and carrying not less than 120 to 170 pounds.
Their reason for trotting under the saddle and on the turf is that it necessitates high round knee action, the only truly beautiful movement for a carriage horse. Also that a high step shortens the stride. Speed must, therefore, be obtained by a quicker movement. From the time of the inauguration of the trotting races there has been a constant improvement.

Between 1836 and 1842, the official records give the time of one hundred and forty-four horses that were contestants in races. The fastest time made for 2½ miles was 7 minutes, 42 2-5 seconds. In 1842, twenty-six horses are officially reported; 1852, one hundred and five, fastest time being 2½ miles in 7 minutes and 40 seconds; 1862, eighty-seven, time, 2½ miles, 6 minutes, 41 seconds; 1872, two hundred and sixty-four; 1882, seven hundred and eighty-eight: 1891, thirteen hundred and ninety-nine, three hundred and twelve of which trotted races from two to three and three-quarters miles in distance at a speed rate of under three minutes per mile, one hundred and thirty-seven under 2:50, one hundred and twelve under 2:45, and sixty-two under 2:40. One hundred and one of the three hundred and twelve were three years old. Average distance, 2 1-16 miles; average time per mile, 2:50.
Slowest time of the one hundred and one, distance, 2½ miles, 3 minutes per mile. Fastest time for three-year-olds, distance, 2½ miles, 6 minutes, 33 seconds—2:37 1-5 per mile. Best time, five-year-olds, distance, 3½ miles, 8 minutes. Best time, five-year-olds, distance, 3½ miles, time, 9 minutes, 44 seconds.

In 1900 the French Government owned and stood for service over 3,000 stallions, more than two-thirds of them being of the coach breed of horses.
In 1870 the management of the Government Haras or studs was vested in the Department of Agriculture and Commerce, under the immediate supervision of a director-general, eight inspectors, twenty-six sub-directors, ten superintendents and twenty-six veterinaries.

In order to be eligible to an appointment to one of the above offices, the candidate must be a graduate of the "Ecole de Haras du Pin," a school located at the Haras of Pin for the education of men to whom shall be confided the future management of this department of the government.

In the organization by the government of the administration of the Haras, there has been one central object constantly kept in view, that is the encouragement of the people by every means possible, to adopt a higher standard of breeding. In order that this purpose might be accomplished, the choicest stallions of the different breeds and types were introduced into each locality, and offered for use to the mare owners at a nominal fee of service. They consist, first, of stallions owned by the government; second, stallions belonging to private individuals inspected and approved by the government, such approved stallions receiving from the government as long as they are so kept in service from 300 to 3,000 francs per annum, according to their breeding and superior excellence; third, authorized stallions, animals that by government inspection are pronounced of good quality and worthy of public patronage. To further prevent the use of inferior individuals a decree was issued in 1885 excluding from public service all stallions not authorized by the government.

We thus see the French Government a most liberal patron of the breeder and the stallioner, but further than this, it becomes an important factor in sustaining the prices of the finest types of all breeds, as the hundreds of stallions of the very highest order of merit that they are obliged to buy annually to supply the Haras, creates a constant demand for the best types at very high prices.

The valuable qualities claimed for the French coach horses over those of other coach breeds are based upon a system of breeding not possessed by any other race.

The breeding of all classes of domestic animals in every other country is conducted by individual enterprise and the outgrowth of individual ideas. Therefore the fixity of type is greatly affected, or destroyed altogether, by the variety of opinions entertained by the large number of people of different tastes engaged in breeding; hence so general a lack of that uniformity of character so highly esteemed and so necessary in every successful breeding animal. The French coach breed, instead of being the product of a multiplicity of ideas, has been developed under the exclusive guidance of the Director-General of the National Studs of France; and as these officials are educated in the same school from generation to generation, are taught to value the same form, seek for the same qualities and pursue the same system, we can understand how it has been possible for them to attain such high perfection and great uniformity in the horses of that country.

Very briefly stated such is the history of the French Coach Horse, the accepted model of which is to-day conceded the world over to be the best carriage and road horse on EARTH.

JURANDE 413.

Dam of Inkermann, first prize World's Columbian Exposition, 1893. Also dam of Italie, first in breeders' collection.

Jurande is a full sister to Sans Vergogne, winner of 20,740 francs, and winner of the Saint Leger of 1884, trotting the race of two miles and a half, under saddle, over a turf track, carrying 137 pounds, at the rate of 2:40 per mile.

Jurande is a half-sister to Hémime, winner of the French Trotting Derby in 1888, and the fastest mare of her age ever produced in that country, she having won a total of 57,735 francs as a three-year-old.

Jurande has, besides these, seventeen half-brothers and sisters that have all trotted the long races over the rough tracks of that country, under saddle, carrying from 150 to 175 pounds, at better than a three-minute gait.

One hundred and eighty-seven sons and daughters of the grandsires of Jurande have been winners in the annual races of France, aggregating 800,000 francs; one of them alone winning over 100,000 francs, trotting a two mile and a half race, under saddle, carrying 155 pounds, at the rate of 2:32 per mile.

Fifty-one sons of the grandsires of Jurande have been owned by the French government, and stood in the National Haras.
